More and more often, patients ask for orthodontic corrections. The most common reason is crowding and a desire for a straighter smile or improved oral health. Dentsply Sirona with more than twenty years of experience in digital planning for Orthodontic treatment provide you with the confidence of excellent initial treatment plan and predictable, compelling results. This aligner treatment course is a part of SureSmile certification program. The certification program contains the eLearning modules, this one day course and customized training for the team.

Participants:

The program is customized for general practitioner to get started with minor alignment orthodontic cases using removable appliances.

Learning content:

- Correct orthodontic records
- How to undertake a full orthodontic assessment
- How to diagnose a malocclusion and plan for treatment of both ideal orthodontics and for anterior tooth alignment
- Fundamental principles of biomechanics and how removable appliances work
- Combine orthodontics with restorative and functional goals
- How to do digital treatment planning including space analysis
- Clinical orthodontic approaches for various malocclusions with hands-on training

The course is structured so that delegates can take on simple to moderate cases from day one of enrollment. We achieve this through comprehensive support by a clinical expert or your local SureSmile specialist. They can assist with monitoring cases for suitability, assessing records and providing extensive support throughout the treatment.

What is IAS Academy?

The IAS Academy is a global community of experienced speakers and trainers with the common goal to empower dentists to confidently treat their patients with the best quality and most ethical treatment options available. Their driver is tooth preservation dentistry. They achieve this through training, mentoring, and supporting the delegates for life in a journey of orthodontics and restorative dentistry.
